

LEGISLATIVE GOSSIP.

The Contest for the Speakership Dwarfs Every Other Interest.

Browning and McMullen Withdraw From the Race—The Friends of Gooding and Jewett Sanguine.

The Marion County Delegation to Support Jewett—Several Candidates for Minor Offices Drop out.

Porter the Probable Nominee of the Republicans for United States Senator—Both Parties to Caucus on Officers this Evening.

John Seal, of Franklin County, candidate for Doorkeeper of the House, has withdrawn. Lieutenant Governor Matson was seen in the corridors of the Grand, yesterday, surrounded by a host of friends.

The Republicans will hold their caucus at the Denison to-night. Copeland will no doubt be nominated for Speaker.

L. R. Hargrave, Joint Representative for Pike and Dubois, comes up to the Legislature backed by a majority of 1,658 votes.

The Democratic members of the House and Senate will meet in caucus in the Criminal Court room at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

The friends of Neal, after holding a caucus at the Grand, last night, in which a number of Representatives took part, laid claim to thirty-seven votes on the first ballot.

At 1 o'clock this morning there was a rumor that Hon. Samuel W. Williams had withdrawn from the race for Speaker, but it could not be traced to any reliable source.

William Elmendorf, ex-Sheriff of Starke County, is a candidate for Doorkeeper of the House. By some means his name was overlooked in making up the lists of candidates yesterday.

Hon. Samuel A. Shoff, of Jay County, will be a candidate for Clerk of the House. Mr. Shoff's legislative experience was gathered in former meetings of the body. He is a competent, worthy gentleman.

C. R. Cory comes up smiling from Franklin County. He was a member of the Legislature in 1867, and again in 1869, and he is naturally full of life. He is now the Representative for Franklin, Dearborn and Ripley Counties.

An Allen County man desires it understood that they have but one candidate for Doorkeeper of the Senate, and that is Joseph Cope. They also claim that Allen's 1,000 Democratic majority deserves recognition.

A. R. Crampton, of Carroll, has withdrawn from the race for Doorkeeper of the Senate. It is understood that he will be a candidate for the Delphi Postoffice, and, upon consulting with his friends yesterday, he withdrew from the Doorkeeper contest.

At a meeting of the Representatives of Marion County yesterday, it was decided to cast her four votes for Jewett for Speaker. This action was commented on in the hotel lobbies pretty freely last night, some taking the ground that the step was one of doubtful expediency.

Bell Sutton, of Shelby County, and a member of the House two years ago, is in the city but he declares that Shelby wants nothing in the present contest, but is satisfied with the honor she gained in relieving her fortunes in the last campaign. Shelby may want something in the future, but nothing now.

The fight for Doorkeeper of the House was quite interesting yesterday, and there was a protracted effort on the part of the candidates to combine the Congressional Districts and make them solid in their votes. Late in the evening several canoes were held and the representatives from a number will vote solidly.

A Gooding worker got up at 1 o'clock this morning to say to a Sentinel reporter that his favorite would be nominated for the Speakership without a doubt. In the hall leading from the Senate chamber he buttonholed the reporter and said: "You may say in the Sentinel that Jewett's nomination is secured."

At a late hour last night, W. W. Browning, of Brown County, said to a Sentinel reporter that he was out of the Speakership contest, and would be glad to have it so stated. He said that he was never serious a candidate, though somehow his name had gotten into the papers, and he did not care to contradict the rumor.

Hon. Will Cumbach was in town yesterday in attendance upon the meeting of the State Delegate Board of Agriculture. It was whispered last night that he is also seeking the empty honor of a nomination for the United States Senatorship. The gentleman who vouchsafed this information says, however, that the juicy fruit will go to Governor Porter.

Gooding's friends were claiming forty-two votes on first ballot, last night, and one of them took a Sentinel reporter aside to say that Mr. Gooding was making gains every hour. On the other hand, Jewett and his friends are feeling confident, and the latter assert that he will be nominated without a doubt; in fact, it is fixed and certain that he will get forty-five votes on first ballot. One of the friends of Jewett handed the Sentinel reporter the following as certain-to-win candidates, at a late hour: Speaker, Jewett; Clerk, Armstrong; Assistant Clerk, Jennings; Doorkeeper, Neal.

Considerable commotion was caused yesterday morning by the announcement that Hon. Hugh McMullen, of Dearborn, had withdrawn from the Speakership contest and had signified his intention of voting for Gooding. Jewett's friends denied the rumor that McMullen would support Gooding, and claimed that he was for Jewett and had quit the contest in the interest of the latter, and would carry to him all the strength he could muster. The policy of the friends of both men appears to be to claim everything in sight and a good deal that is not beneath the horizon of ordinary human vision. One thing is certain, and that is that McMullen has retired in good order from the contest; whether he can throw his support "whither he pleases" is another and more difficult problem. Browning, of St. Joe, has also retired from the struggle, but Williams, of Knox County, is still in the race, and his friends are as zealous as ever in his interest, though it is conceded on all sides that the contest lies between Gooding and Jewett, with first one and then the other in the lead.

William Neal, of Johnson, candidate for Doorkeeper of the House, has already gained the distinction of being the best electioneer in the field. Almost the entire posse comitatus is on hand working for him. Among his workers are Editors Slater, Short and Williams, Auditor Jennings, Treasurer Swift, Clerk Harris, ex-Clerk Hardin, Sheriff Steward, T. C. M. Perry, Thomas McFadden, ex-Senator Tarlton, Judge Banta, Commissioner Outinger, Drs. Jones and Hall, and a host of others. They are all here, they declare, with one accord, and they assert with confidence that their favorite will get there.

Captain Samuel Donaldson, of Kansas, is at the Grand Hotel. The Captain spent the greater part of his life in Southern and Central Indiana, and in his time was one of the best known politicians of the State. Many a combination which has fixed events that have become matters of history were formed by him, and in a State Convention it was the aim of every man who understood his business, and who desired a nomination for any office, to first enlist the closest cooperation of the Captain. This done, the battle was nearly every time. Captain Donaldson is growing old, but, although his beard is white, he exhibits all the spirit which characterized his work of former years. He is now looking in upon the formation of the State Legislature, and, possibly, presenting some aspirant's claims, while apparently he walks unconcerned along through the corridors of the hotel in company with his nearest relative, Colonel J. W. Vannoy, of Shelbyville.

Nearly or quite all of the Senators and Representatives elected reached the city yesterday, and the lobbies of the Grand and Bates presented even a more animated appearance than on Monday. The interest centered in the Speakership contest, and this seemed to have practically dwarfed everything else.

Candidates for minor offices, however, were by no means discouraged, and claimed to be receiving an amount of attention commensurate with the importance of the positions to which they aspire. Efforts were made during the evening to form combinations, both for Senate and House offices, and resulted in failure, owing to the fact that hardly a Congressional District in the State has less than two candidates, and several of them as many as three. From the indications at 1 o'clock this morning each race appeared to be a free-for-all, without hope of changing its character before the caucus meets to-night. A large number of persons are in the city taking part in the friends or looking on the struggle from a disinterested standpoint.

"Whom will the Republicans nominate for the United States Senate?" asked the reporter of a Republican Senator yesterday. "That is a question which has received but little thought so far," was the reply. "As for me," he continued, "I am for Porter first, last and all the time. He has made a conservative administration, and while his nomination would be but a compliment, it is one that he deserves and ought to receive. We can not better show our appreciation of his services during the past four years than by tendering him a nomination for the Senate. If it does no more, it will show to him what we would do if it were in our power to elect a Senator. Dick Thompson has been mentioned in this connection, and so has Colonel Dudley, but you must rest assured that there will be no strife for the honor, and that Porter will receive the complimentary vote of the Republican members. With regard to the officers of the Senate, I can not say who will be voted for. It is an empty honor, you know, and in this day and age are not struggling for honors when there is no money attached to them. We have a great many good men for whom we could vote, but it is now a matter of doubt whether we will go through the form of making nominations for Senate officers. The Democrats will have everything their own way, and all we ask is a fair representation on the several committees. We are entitled to this, and will not go outside to ask favors."

A Republican member of the House who arrived Monday evening was questioned yesterday regarding the Speakership. He replied that Mr. Copeland would without doubt receive the complimentary vote of his party for that office, and he was the more positive that such would be the case, because Copeland is the only man who is seeking it. "We are not in a position," said he, "either to reward our friends or punish our enemies, and this is not an enviable one. The Democrats are making all the noise and will get all the encomiums, but I am surprised that there should be so much good humor when the struggle is waxing so warm. It is plain that the party is lying in wait for a discount when the struggle is decided, and this fact argues in favor of unanimity in the Legislature upon all party questions that may arise. We do not constitute a minority that is formidable in any sense, and I look for a smooth session and the transaction of a good deal of business. I think the proper course for the Republicans is not to antagonize the majority by the introduction of party measures, which can do nothing but provoke bitter discussions, and eventually end in defeat. The people want less wrangling and more active work on the part of their representatives, and as the Democrats have such a decided majority they must bear the odium of unpopular measures while, at the same time, they will reap the benefit of all wholesome legislation by the present body. This has been our 'off year,' you know, and as we take back seats on the political stage in State and Nation, we should do so gracefully and not as though we thought the hand of fate was irrevocably against us."

AMUSEMENTS.

THE HOWARD ATHLETIC SPECIALTY COMPANY AT ENGLISH'S.

The Howard Athletic Specialty Company opened their engagement at English's last night, and to say the least the show "caught on." Hamilton and Keeler in eccentric songs and dances were very clever. Miss May MacCallie sings and dances very nicely. Harrington and Johnson are very versatile comedians, and E. H. Doyle, the dancer, is the best ever seen in this city. Fields and Hanson are a well-known musical team, and have been seen here quite frequently. Miss Lizzie Starns, the famous dancer, in her new divertissement, made her debut at the close of the evening, and the two Macs are the best performers ever seen here on the specialty stage for acrobatic, mirth-provoking fun. The entertainment was concluded by Mr. William Carroll in an afterpiece entitled "Bad Boy." This show, as a whole, is one of the best high-class vaudeville companies, and is superior to anything that Pastor has brought here. The performance will be repeated to-morrow, with the usual matinee.

"THE BEGGAR STUDENT" AT THE GRAND.

A largely increased and thoroughly delighted audience witnessed the second performance of the charming comic opera of "The Beggar Student" at the Grand Opera House last night, and the applause throughout was spontaneous and frequent. The company is a remarkably good one, with a keen sense of the more effective situations and songs, and with as finely balanced a chorus as has been heard here in many a long day. The music of the opera is very bright and sparkling, and is rendered in a most effective manner. There is sufficient plot to keep the audience deeply interested in its development. The stars of the company are Mile A. Galliard, as the "Countess of Palmaria," Miss Louise Manfred and Francis D. Hall, daughters of the "Countess," C. M. Pike, as the "Beggars Student," A. F. W. McCollins, as the "Governor of Cracovia," Russell S. Glover, as "Janitzka," and William H. Kohnle, as the "Jailer." All in all the performance was thoroughly enjoyable, from first to last. There will be a cheaply priced matinee this afternoon at 2 o'clock, twenty-five and fifty cents to all parts of the house—and final performance to-night.

The Twain-Cable Entertainment.

The Twain-Cable entertainment, about which so much has been said, will be given to-night at Plymouth Church. Mark Twain, the greatest humorist of the century, and George W. Cable, the renowned Southern novelist, will give alternate selections from their peculiar fields of literary work. The press of the country has been lavish in praise of these gentlemen, and there is, no doubt, a grand treat in store for those who attend. No one who has ever heard Mark Twain will ever willingly lose an opportunity to renew his acquaintance with him; while of Mr. Cable it is said that his sketches of Southern characters and of life among the Creoles of Louisiana can not be excelled. Few men have ever been able to give perfect pictures on the stage from their own inimitable writings. Dickens could, and so can Mr. Cable, but there are perhaps none others. It is safe to say the house will be well filled to-night.

Footpadded.

At an early hour yesterday morning Horace Keever, night clerk at the Grand Hotel restaurant, was assaulted by a footpadder on Indiana avenue between Illinois and Tennessee street. The man sprang out of an alley and struck Keever a heavy blow on the head, not heavy enough to knock him down, however, for the young man turned and ran up town. He reported the matter to Merchant Police Moore, and told the officer that he had a revolver in his pocket, but the suddenness of the assault so bewildered him that he forgot to draw it on the highwayman.

SENTINEL SPECIALS.

The Muncie National Bank.

Muncie, Ind., Jan. 6.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Muncie National Bank to-day S. A. Wilson was elected President, F. T. White, of Cincinnati, O., who has served in this position for eleven years past, declining re-election for so short a term, since it was decided that the institution should go into voluntary liquidation at the expiration of the charter, on the 28th of this month. The bank is in excellent condition, and is prepared to pay depositors every cent should they call for their money to-morrow. This has been one of the most paying banks in the State, and has paid, during its twenty years of existence, an average annual dividend of 10 1/2 per cent. to the stockholders. The citizens of Muncie and Delaware County regret that it is not to be rechartered.

Physician Appointed—Fell Thirty-Six Feet.

Special to the Sentinel.

Knightstown, Ind., Jan. 6.—Dr. William Fuller, of this city, was to-day appointed physician by the Trustees of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home and Home for Feeble-Minded Children, vice Dr. J. C. Dillon, resigned.

William Call, a wealthy and influential farmer, residing one mile west of this city, met with a serious if not fatal accident this forenoon. He had ascended to the deck of a wind engine, and was repairing the brake of the same, when a sudden gust caused it to revolve, striking and knocking him to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. In the descent he made several revolutions, alighting upon his feet. Attending physicians say no bones are broken, but think he has sustained fatal internal injuries.

Policeman on Trial—Arrested for Forgery.

Special to the Sentinel.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 6.—The trial of Policeman Griffin for shooting Neal Wilson, colored, in the county jail last August, was begun yesterday. The examination of witnesses is now going on. The evidence goes to show that Griffin, in company with another officer, arrested Wilson, and while putting him in jail a scuffle ensued from Wilson's resistance. Wilson threw stove-legs at him, and Griffin emptied his revolver, killing him.

James O'Donnell, a prominent liveryman, and Walter Haynes, a gambler, were bound over in the sum of $300 each, last night, on the charge of forgery. It is alleged that they forged a note in the sum of $650 on Richard Morfit, a farmer.

The Wabash Rising.

Special to the Sentinel.

St. Carmel, Ill., Jan. 6.—The Wabash River rose eight inches last night, which is about equal to five or six feet if we within its banks. Experienced river men fear a repetition of the 1875 floods. All farmers in the bottoms have secured their grain and stock, and are coming out. The aid societies are caring for the poor in the bottoms and elsewhere.

A High Tribute to Mr. Cleveland.

Albany, Jan. 6.—Governor Hill, in his message to the Legislature says: It may be safely asserted that the administration of Governor Cleveland for the two years past has more than met the just expectations of the people and has made its lasting impression on the annals of the State. It has been brilliant in its sterling integrity; safe in its true conservatism; faithful in its adherence to pledges, and vigilant in its opposition to corruption. Its straightforward and business-like conduct, united with its unquestioned honesty of purpose, has won for it and for himself the warm approval of his political friends, the sincere respect of his opponents and the unswerving and unselfish support of independent citizens everywhere. That he may meet with the same degree of success in the greater office to which he has been called is the earnest wish of all the citizens of this State, and of every lover of good government.

Advices from China and Japan by Steamer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6.—The Oceanic arrived this afternoon with Hong Kong advices of the 13th and Yokohama of the 23d. The rumor that the Jardine Matheson Company made a loan of 500,000 taels to the Chinese government is confirmed, and 250,000 has been paid on the account. The loan is made with the avowed purpose of building a railroad to the immense coal deposits west of Peking, which are the richest in the world. The work will be pushed forward as rapidly as possible. It is reported that the young Emperor is engaged and will soon marry the daughter of Duke Chao, brother of the Empress dowager. The North China Daily News says that United States Minister Young and Vincent Smith visited Victory Li Hung Chang and proposed to him that the Chinese Government give them the contract of collecting the revenues of all the provinces as well as a monopoly of the Government purchases, the Government to pay them 5 per cent. on the total amount of the transactions. The proposition was declined.

Ten-Ten advices state the losses of the French troops at Formosa from fever and dysentery was enormous, and that, as consequence, Admiral Courbet's ships were seriously undermanned.

Germany is making an effort to gain control of the railroads to be constructed in China. Through its representative, Mr. Detring, it offers to provide all the material and engineers, guaranteeing all the cash necessary for their construction.

Several sharp shocks of earthquake have been felt in Monden Province, China. Corea is threatened with famine.

A telegraph cable has been laid between the main land of Japan and the Rikin Islands.

Meeting of Legislatures.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 6.—The Senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Hill. The roll was called and a recess of an hour taken.

The Assembly was called to order at 11 o'clock and the members sworn in.

George Z. Erwin was elected Speaker of the Assembly and a committee appointed to notify Governor Cleveland that the Legislature was organized.

Governor Cleveland sent the following to the Legislature shortly after noon:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
ALBANY, Jan. 6, 1895.

To the Legislature:

I hereby resign the office of Governor of the State of New York.

A committee was appointed to notify Lieutenant Governor Hill of Governor Cleveland's resignation and inform him that the Legislature was ready for business. Adjourned until Tuesday, January 13.

Senator Dennis McCarthy was elected President of the Senate.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 6.—The Legislature convened at noon to-day. John L. Gibbs, of Freeborn County, was elected Speaker of the House.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The Ohio Legislature reassembled in adjourned session this afternoon. The annual message of Governor Hoadly was read, which is quite lengthy and touches on a number of important State topics.

The Illinois Legislature.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—The Democratic House and Senate caucuses of the Illinois General Assembly met to-night. In the House caucus Edward L. Conkrite, of Freeport, and Elijah M. Haines, of Waukegan, were placed in nomination for Speaker. On the first ballot Conkrite received thirty-nine votes and Haines, 32, and Conkrite was declared the nominee. The Democrats have only one majority in the House, including Haines, who has been heretofore an Independent. Haines, it is understood, has agreed to abide by the decision of the caucus, but there is some talk about the Republicans nominating him for Speaker, and thus obtaining control of the House. This is mere rumor, and should be so credited.

In the Democratic Senate caucus Hon. Henry Seiter was nominated for President pro tem. The Republicans have one majority in the Senate.

Appointment of a Trustee for the J. M. and T.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The first mortgage bondholders of the Jeffersonville, Madison and Indianapolis Railway, the same being in amount $3,000,000, and bearing date October 7, 1890, were called to meet the railway company this morning to appoint a Trustee to fill the place of the late Trustee Riggs. The company was represented, but no stockholders appeared. The second mortgage bondholders did not meet. The company will now apply to the Courts of Jurisdiction to appoint a successor to the late Mr. Riggs.

The World's Exposition.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 6.—The sunshine today made everybody more comfortable, and brought out a crowd to the World's Exposition. The Exhibitors' Convention tabled the resolutions to appeal to Congress for the refund of funds, or to ask the citizens of New Orleans to make up the deficit, and finally laid over all the business until Thursday. The exhibitors say they will have their exhibits completed in twelve days, if they have the necessary apparatus and appliances.

A Jeweler Identifies His Goods.

BOWMANVILLE, Pa., Jan. 6.—D. B. Shiffer, jeweler, robbed by the Banzard gang on the night of November 27, has identified as his property the goods found in the bag carried by John Lippincott when arrested in Columbia. It is positively known that Abe was with Lippincott at Columbia. He returned to the Welsh Mountains Saturday night. When they started out together they agreed they would not kill any one.

A Forger Arrested.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Pinkerton's Detective Agency effected the arrest to-day of David E. Swain, at Sninton's Bay, Mich., where he was living under the alias of D. T. Edington, and had only recently been elected Prosecuting Attorney. He was wanted for the forgery of $51,000 of Northern Pacific funds at St. Paul, which was his last speculation. He disappeared last July.

General Brislin on General Grant's Condition.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 6.—The Globe Democrat will to-morrow publish a letter from General Brislin, of Idaho, in regard to the present condition and position of General Grant, in which, after reviewing General Grant's history, he makes an earnest appeal to the people and Congress to relieve the old hero's distress, and warns them that if Grant should die in his present condition the Nation would be disgraced in the eyes of the whole world.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

A dense fog on Chesapeake Bay put a stop to navigation yesterday.

The Mississippi River Commission transmitted a lengthy report to Congress yesterday.

A farmer living near Tilsonbury, Ont., was found dead in the woods yesterday, shot through the heart.

The Treasurer of Union County, Dakota, is short in his accounts $8,000 or more. His affairs are in a bad shape.

The ladies in charge of the Baltimore Charity Fair expect Governor Cleveland to be present on Monday next.
